Lal Bahadur Shastri National Award for Excellence 2009

The Lal Bahadur Shastri Institute of Management is inviting nominations for the prestigious Lal Bahadur Shastri National Award for Excellence 2009.

2. The Lal Bahadur Shastri National Award was instituted in 1999 by the Lal Bahadur Shastri Institute of Management (LBSIM), set up in honor of Shri Lal Bahadur Shastri, the second Prime Minister of India for his outstanding public service. It honors each year an individual residing in India or abroad who is an exceptionally outstanding and distinguished business leader, management practitioner, educator or institution builder for his/her sustained individual contributions and achievements of high professional order and excellence.

3. The Award carries a cash price of INR 100,000, a citation and a plaque and is presented every year by the President of India in Rashtrapati Bhavan on the eve of Shastri's birth anniversary on 1st October. The Jury for 2009 is made up of eminent personalities such as the former Cabinet Secretary, former Ministers and former Chief Justice of India. You may wish to visit the website www.lbsim.ac.in for further information.

4. It would be appreciated if you could forward nominations of any eligible persons with outstanding contributions in their specific fields from either the private or public sector. Information as per attached Nomination Form along with the Curriculum Vitae, achievements and other details of the nominee should reach this office by 20 April 2009 by noon at latest.
